THE MAKOTO CASE STUDY

Josh Levine, Director of Operations at STARR Restaurants, suspected that employees could be stealing from him at his restaurants. He decided to add Avero's Loss Prevention to his existing Avero software package to automate the investigation process.

On the first day of using the system, Josh was able to use Avero's Loss Prevention to pinpoint a "leak" at Makoto in Miami, FL where an employee was stealing by abusing a promotion on cash checks. Backed by hard evidence, Josh was able to terminate the employee plus identify and fix the promotion that was being exploited.
